Moral Stress

In this first part, the questions are about your experiences of difficult situations in your professional role in your work during the COVID-pandemic.

Difficult situations and choices at work

On this page, the questions are about your experience of difficult situations in your professional role during the COVID pandemic. The following questions are about dealing with difficult situations and their consequences.

Some situations may mean that you cannot follow, and act on your moral values. These situations may give rise to moral stress, e.g. feelings such as powerlessness, frustration, helplessness, anger/sadness. The situations may be, for example, that you have needed to make decisions even though the options available to you seemed wrong, or where you have been prevented by circumstances from doing what is in line with your values, or where you have been involved in a decision against your beliefs, by another's action or decision.

- ☐ Never
- ☐ Occasionally
- ☐ Sometimes
- ☐ Often
- ☐ Very often

To what extent do you feel that you have been involved in such situations?

There may be situations where you cannot follow what you feel is morally right in your decisions or actions. Here we ask you to rate the extent to which these situations have been stressful.

For each option, indicate a level of your perceived moral stress (powerlessness/frustration). The scale is from 1-7 where 1 is none and 7 is extremely high. Mark one option per line.

I experienced moral stress in situations where...

1 2 3 4 5 6 7

...all the options felt wrong, but I was still forced to make a decision

...I took or was involved in making decisions that were not consistent with my moral values

...other people's decisions prevented me from doing what was in line with my moral values

...other circumstances prevented me, such as lack of time or material and structural resources

...I acted but experienced it not "enough" according to my moral values

What was the causes behind the stressful situations?

Here we ask you to rate, overall, to what extent you think the following options contributed to the morally stressful situations.
